THE SPORTS OF A COOL JULY

RACING AT MONMOUTH PARK TO DAY.

A FINE FIELD IN THE NAVESINK HANDICAP. Again a number of fine sprinters will meet in the first race at Monmouth Park to-day, and Geraldine will have a chance to redeem herself. If she is ridden by a jockey with good judgment of pace, who has sense enough not to use the whip on this nervous, high-strung filly, she should win, with Fitzroy second. A poor lot of two-year-olds will run for the Optional Stakes, with selling allowances. Groomsman may win, Little Barefoot second. The Trenton Stakes for three-year-olds also has selling conditions. Mr. Withers's Minority colt should win, Locust second.

The Navesink Handicap will give a splendid contest between Firenzi and Belvidere, while Surinam and Eurus may be close up. If J. D. Morrissey's trainer could get Banburg to the post in last year's form (Ban-burg had a different trainer last year) Banburg could win at the weights. But he has failed so badly in training this horse that it would hardly be safe to follow him. Fireuzi should win the Navesink, Bel-

The remark about Banburg applies also to Kaloolah On last year's form she should have the fourth race at her mercy, but she has repeatedly been started when her running showed that she was in no condition for a hard race. Hence Telle Doe should win, Benedictine

The brainless creature who passes judgment on races without ever seeing them is well pleased with riding of Geraldine in the Passaic Stakes. Well, the judgment of a writer who is wholly unknown to any prominent turiman in America, and who shows no knowledge of racing matters either at home or abroad, must pass for what it is worth. The criticisms in this column on the riding of certain jockeys have been sustained by the leading turfmen of the country. Who formerly rode The Bard when he lost race after race? Has that jockey ever ridden him in any of his great victories? Every one has seen what a change of lockeys did in that case. Mr. Belmont agreed to the letter with the criticisms made on the riding of some of his horses this year. But the wise acre who praises the riding of Geraldine on Tuesday may be expected soon to publish a book, in which he will not only seek to reverse every settled canon of criticism in racing matters, but will also print his celbrated scheme for converting the well-known stallion Himalava into a brood mare.

The Dwyer brothers said at Saratoga yesterday that there was no truth in the report that they intended to buy the Secaucus track They had no idea of doing anything of the sort.

It may also be stated positively on the best authork may also be stated positively on the cest authority that the American Jockey Club will race next year at Jerome Park and nowhere cise. The new course at Westchester will be in the hands of a new organization, entirely distinct from the American Jockey Club. It is not probable that Jerome Park will ever be taken for a reservoir; certainly not for many years. For a long time in the future, at any rate, the American Jockey Club will continue to race on the picturesque grounds at Fordham. Long may it prosper.

THOROUGHBRED MARES FOR MR. BELMONT. On the National Line steamer Spain, which arrived yesterday, were two thoroughbred mares consigned to August Seimont. They came from the paddocks of Leo-pold de Rothschild, in England. One, Bella Bonna, is a three-year-old filly by Hermit, out of Bonnie Doon. The other, Viola, is an older mare, but of equally blueblooded pedigree. Both animals arrived in excellent con-dition. They will be sent to Mr. Belmont's breeding farm in Kentucky.

SOME PECULIAR POLICE CASES.

As Police Commissioner McClave was listening to the excuses of policemen who were on trial for petty offences yesterday he was surprised by the defence offered by Patrolman Charles McLeavy, of the West Forty-seventh Street Squad, who was accused of falling to patrol his post in Eighth-ave, properly. "I was very tired," McLeavy said, " and I sat down in a ballway to rest and fell asleep."

"This is a serious matter," said Mr. McClave. "I do not know that the Police Board ever failed to dismiss a policeman who was found sleeping on his post." McLeavy made haste to say that the roundsman had not caught him asieep, and he wanted to amend his dangerous admission of guilt, but Mr. McClave said:

That will do. I will refer the case to the Board." The trial of Policeman Monahan, of Captain Ryan's Squad, on a charge of leaving his post uncovered for an hour, brought out some surprising evidence. Roundsman Deeves found a liquor store open in viola tion of the law early on the morning of July 7 and directed Monahan to arrest the liquor dealer. When they got to the station Sorgeant McDonald was not behind the desk, but Deeves found him lounging in the back yard. When the roundsman explained that geant remarked: "Some people see altogether too much." Then the sergeant sent Monahan out to look for a bondsman for the liquor dealer, and the search occupied the hour during which his post was uncovered. he had seen a violation of the Excise law the sec-

BRICE, THOMAS AND THE AQUEDUCT.

AN EVASIVE STATEMENT FROM BROWN, HOW-ARD & CO. AS TO THOSE INTERESTED IN

It was expected that the last meeting of the present Aqueduct Commissioners would take place yes terday, but those who assembled to witness the closng session of the memorable body were disappointed. Only Commissioners Fish, Ridgway and Barnes were present. As it happened, the absent members were all of the former Board of 1884, while those present were the Commissioners appointed under the act of 1886. As there was no quorum, no action was taken regarding the sureties of the contractors, Brown, Howard & Co., Calvin S. Brice and Samuel Thomas, who are said to have become partners in the firm. On July 18, Secretary Sheehan sent this letter to Brown, Howard & Co. on the subject :

At a meeting of the Aqueduct Commissioners held yesterday, the secretary was directed to communicate with your firm and ask if any of the persons who appear as securities in the contract of Sections 2 to 5, inclusive, of the new Aqueduct are now members of the firm of Brown. Howard & Co., and if they have any interest therein, and if so, what such interest consists of. The Commissieners are anxious to get information as soon as possi-ble, and also to learn how the firm is at present constituted and who compose it-

The request for the information desired was certainly explicitly stated, but the reply which has been received from the firm is said to be of a decidedly evasive character. Great care is taken to make no mention of the relations to the firm of Colonel Calvin Brice, the chairman of the National Democratic Campaign Committee, one of the bondsmen when the firm was first organized on December 20, 1884, and now an alleged partner. The letter states the names firm and of the sureties as given in The Tribof the firm and of the surches as given by 1856, une of July 18, and tells how, on February 9, 1856, a hit to centre field by Gore.

Chambers transferred his interest to Samuel Another oddity of Daniels was shown in the last half Thomas; how a little later A. J. McBean transferred of the inning and gave the Boston men a run. Wise his to Clinton Beckwith; and how on October 20, was clearly thrown out at the home plate, but Daulels his to Clinton Beckwith; and how on October 20, 1887, Columbus R. Cummings conveyed his interest to Watson H. Brown and Samuel Thomas. It fails to state, however, that Samuel Thomas and Calvin S. Brice are partners, and that consequently these two sureties have been actual partners of Brown, Howard

& Co. ever since February D. 1886. This is said to cover the time during which all the bad work of this firm on the Aqueduct was done. The interest of lirice and Thomas was increased on October 20, 1887, by the transfer of Columbus R. Cummings's interest. The subject is likely to be atong the first to claim the attention of the new

TO CURB AN INSURANCE COMPANY.

A MUTUAL LIFE POLICY-HOLDER ANXIOUS. BRINGING A SUIT TO HAVE THE DIRECTORS EN-

JOINED FROM BUYING REAL ESTATE. Samuel Levy has a $30,000 policy in the Mutual Life Insurance Company and he objects to the quiring of any more real estate by that company. He has brought a suit for a permanent injunction restrain any such acquisition and his counsel, Colonel John A. Denison, yesterday applied to Presiding Justice Van Brunt in the Supreme Court, Chambers, for a temporary injunction pending the suit prohibiting in general terms the purchase of any more such property and specifically forbidding the completion of the building now being erected in Cedar-st., adjoining that which the company owns and in part occupies Colonel Denison argued in support of his applica He said that by the special act of 1842 under which the company was organized a policy helder became a member of the company and had the rights of a stockholder. The charter provided that the company should hold only such real estate as should be sufficient for the immediate and convenient transaction of its business. The policy of investing in real estate had resulted disastrously to several insurance com-

Robert Sewell, on behalf of the company, opposed the application. He read an affidavit by Richard
McCurdy, president of the company, in which he says

Mr. Sewell said that Levy had visited the offices before bringing this suit. Mr. Levy's life was insured for the benefit of his wife and she alone became a member of the company. He had nothing to do with it except as her agent and she was not a stockholder in the ordinary sense of the word. The statute distinctly stated that only the Attorney-General, creditors and stockholders are authorized to bring such actions. "Mr. Levy," continued Mr. Sewell, "is only one of 140,830 policy-holders who are in-sured for 8427,583,359. He is attempting to yindicate the rights of the corporation by a policy which would be sufcidal."

Colonel Denison replied that his client under the statute was a member of the corporation with rights equal to those of the directors. The statute was inequal to those of the directors. The statute was in-tended especially to keep insurance companies from acquiring real estate not needed for their own use. "We do not doubt," he said, "that this company is the largest in the world nor that it is able to pay, but we want to prevent this company from going to ruin," The decision was reserved.

A SOMEWHAT QUIET HADES.

A SOMEWHAT QUIET HADES.

From The Pittsburg Dispatch.

When we were running through the dismal flats of New-Jersey, which look semewhat more melanchely by twilight than at any other time. I ventured to sak the New-York politiclan, who had bustled into the brain in Gotham style at the Broad'st, station, why New-Jersey had been set down on the highway to New-York.

"Don't you know?" said the New-Yorker, "New-Jersey is the purgatory through which the Philadelphian must pass before he reaches heav— New-York I mean."

"Then, you say that Philadelphia is—".

"Well, I suppose 60."

NEW-YORK IN SECOND PLACE BOSTON DEFEATED FOR THE THIRD TIME.

THE GIANTS AT LAST DECIDE TO TRY FOR THE

PENNANT-THE SCORE. The New-York nine not only defeated the Boston club for the third consecutive time at the Pole Grounds yester-day, but also passed Chicago in the League race, and took second place. The Chicago club was beaten by the Indianapolis team. The Iriends of the New-York club accordingly owe a vote of thanks to those happy Hoosiers. The Detrot; club is now in the lead, but is only one game ahead of the local nine. A little more of the same kind of work and the Giants will be in the lead.

The game at the Polo Grounds was not a model contest, and had little resemblance to the game of the day before. The New-Yorkers won easily, but the playing was of that slow, hesitating kind, that did not stir up the specta-tors as much as they like to be stirred up. Keefe pitched phenomenal game, but he took his time about it. sowders was also slow in his delivery, and it required nearly two hours and a half to play out the nine Relly and Ewing were again the catchers, and both of these great players did excellent work. They always do when the atmosphere and other influences are to their liking. Richardson was the only local player to make a blunder. That blunder, coupled with another queer decision by Umpire Daniels, gave the Roston players their only run. Daniels can make one of those exasperating decisions and then perferm some laughable contor-tions with his face and look sillier than anybody else ever seen at a baseball game. He apparently does not realize what he is doing half the time. Unfortunately, the onlooners do, and they shout their disapproval.

There were 4,087 people present, and they watched the game closely, hoping for a victory for the home club and ready to how! at a defeat. The veteran enthusiasts passed the dull moments in figuring out per-centages of the Chicago, Detroit and New-York clubs. The New-York players heard in the eighth lanlog that Indianapolis had again defeated Chicago, and the news seemed to put new life into the team, for in the final inning the home players batted out two runs. The Brooklyn players having an off day, attended the game in a body, so did many of their Brooklyn admirers. It is sincerely hoped that they picked up some ideas about sincerely hoped that they picked up some ideas about Captain Downlag's clam bake, Milton Point. baseball vesterday which they can use to advantage in Each side was put out in quick order during the early innings, and no runs were made until the fourth, when the home players scored three and set the spectators shouting thereby. Ward made a short hit toward third base and got safely to first amid appliance and shouts of "Good boy, Ward." Connor reached first on an error by Klusman, and a wild pitch by Sowders put Ward on third and Connor on second. O'Rourke made a timely hit to right field and two runs went over the home plate hit to right field and two runs went over the nome plate. The ball was thrown to the home plate to eatch Connor, but seeing that it was impossible, Kelly threw to seeond to catch O'Rourke. His aim was poor, however, and O'Rourke got there safely. The left fielder went to third on a wild pitch and crossed the plate on thought not. Keefe could not give Wife a ball to suit and the big Bostonian went to first on called bells. Horning not to first on a fumble by Richardson. Morrill hit safe to centre field, and the ball was quickly returned to the catcher. The umpire asserted himself and Wise's run counted. Sowders did splendid work for the next four innings, and retired the local players almost as they came to the bat. In the ninth the New-Yorkers railled at the bat again, and added two more runs to their record. Whitney, Ewing and Richardson all made short hits and filled the bases. Ward forced Whitney out, but Tiernan made a two-base hit to left field. and Ewing and Richardson scored. The score was: New York. | r. 15 po a. e. | Boston. | r. 15 po a. e.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 25.—Chicago's defeat to-day was largely due to the poor buttery work of Van Haltren and Farrell. The former was wild and Farrell's throw-ing to bases was wretched. TWO LIES BY "THE TIMES" IN ONE DAY.

MAYOR REWITT BRANDS ONE AND CONTRACTOR JOHN O'BRIEN THE OTHER.

"The Times" yesterday published what it claimed to be the purport of a "caustic letter" written by Mayor Hewitt to Governor Hill on the subject of the reorganization of the Aqueduct. The effect of this letter was such, according to "The Times," that "Gov-ernor Hill was actually driven by his father Abram into the recommendation to the Legislature upon which the act was based." How the Mayor in this letter " collated all the evidence before the Senate investigating committee which in any manner reflected upon the Governor," how he "reviewed it and presented nor, concluding with the emphatic expression that the Governor was unfit to hold his office and ought not to presume to seek a re-election," is carefully set "The Times" adds:

The letter was originally 'ntended for publication, out the promptness with which the Governor acted, and a let-ter from Governor Hill appealing to the Mayor to keep the letter out of the papers, are supposed to have swerved the Mayor from his purpose of publication, for he new refuses to give the letter to the presa.

Mayor Hewitt, when asked yesterday if the report of his letter in " The Times" was correct, answered that in making the statement referred to "The Times" had deliberately Bed. He added: "I cannot understand this disposition to concoct seasa-I have written many letters to the Governor, yesterday was not confined to imaginary letters from the Mayor. In an alleged interview which it gives with Aqueduct Contractor John O'Brien, the latter s made to furnish some material for its war on Hill. Mr. O'Brien was asked, ' The Times" says, if he thought the Senate investigating committee "had anything in reserve which would injure the Governor's chances for re-election," to which he is reported to have

"I certainly think they have. Walt until there are a few more outs. The men who have been deserted by the Governor will talk more freely when they have had time to collect their wits."

Mr. O'Brien was asked if he had made this state-He replied indignantly that he had not. He said: "I neither made that statement nor said what could be made to mean anything like it."
